Continua aprendiendo y practicando acerca del Verb To Be: statements and yes/no questions

To make Yes/No Questions with am/is/are you have to use the correct form:

Verb To Be + Pronoun + Complement

Are + you + a woman?

Yes, I am. / No, I am not.

Example

- Are we cousins?
- Are they Mexicans?
- Is she my mother?
- Is he Chinese?
- Is this Indian food?

Review the following conversation:

A: Are you from México?

B: No, I'm from Texas. Where are you from?

A: I'm from Coahuila Mexico.

B: Do you know The Museum of the Desert?

A: Yes, I've visited it.

There are many countries in our planet, that's why is important for you to know the names of some of them as well as the correct names of the nationalities. Remember that in countries where English is the official language, there are a huge number of immigrants such as: The United States, Canada, England, Ireland, Australia, etc.

When you ask for the different nationalities you will use yes/no questions, just as you already practiced previously.

Existen muchos países en nuestro planeta, por lo que es de gran ayuda que puedas conocer los nombres de algunos de ellos, así como la forma correcta de decir sus nacionalidades, recuerda que en países de habla inglesa existe un gran porcentaje de inmigrantes, tales como: Estados Unidos, Canadá, Inglaterra, Irlanda, Australia por mencionar algunos.

Cuando tu preguntes por las diferentes nacionales seguirás utilizando yes/no questions, como ya lo practicaste anteriormente. ¡Veamos!
